our Protection

With the recent demise of several travel companies, you should be concerned about protecting your holiday purchase. The safest way to protect yourself is to use your credit card. As long as the transaction bears the name of the company you are booking with, your credit card issuer will refund any losses. If you use a debit card or a charge card, you may not be protected. Highlands4you accepts credit cards with NO service fees. Please talk to one of our reservations staff if you have any questions.
